

Questions & Answers from Donors

Who benefits from money raised at the Candlelight Dinner?

One out of every hundred people is living with epilepsy. EFM&RI provides information and support to thousands of these adults and children in Massachusetts and Rhode Island. As the primary fundraising event for the year, this event is critical for the future of the services we offer to more than 90,000 constituents. We need to raise more than $75,000 to ensure the survival of important programs like Camp Wee-Kan-Tu, community education through H.O.P.E., scholarships for kids with epilepsy, support networks connecting people living with epilepsy, informational conferences, and many more.

Who attends the Candlelight Dinner?

This event will attract hundreds of the organization's supporters – all bound by a common interest in this disorder. Parents of children with epilepsy, relatives and friends of people with epilepsy and those who suffer from seizures themselves will join clinicians, social workers, researchers and others committed to this cause for an evening of fun, fellowship and fundraising.

Are donations to the auction tax-deductible?

Donations of auction items and program book ad space are fully tax-deductible to the extent of the law. The organization's tax ID number is 222.505.819.

How can I help?

Donate an auction item.
Advertise in the program book.
Sponsor.
Buy tickets.
Make a cash donation.

How do I do that?

Please take an auction donation/advertising form, fill it in completely and mail to:
